Glossaries

Some books have a list of words called a glossary at the back. A glossary tells you what words mean, like a little dictionary. Read this glossary from a book about plants.

flower	a part of a plant where new seeds grow
leaf	a part of a plant that grows on the stem
light	something plants need to grow
root	the part of a plant in the soil
seed	can grow into a new plant
seedling	a young plant
soil	the earth that plants grow in
stem	the main part of a plant
water	something plants need to grow

Now use the glossary above to write about plants.

A young plant is called a _____

What part of a plant is in the soil? _____

What can grow into a new plant? _____

Write two things that plants need to grow _____

The words in a glossary are in alphabetical order. Mark the other things below that have lists in alphabetical order.

Noun Story

A noun names a person, place, animal, or thing.

For example: friend (person) school (place)
tiger (animal) desk (thing)

Fill in the story below using nouns. You can make your story as silly or strange as you like. When you're finished, read your story to a friend or family member.

_____ and _____ wanted to go to the _____. They brought a _____ and a _____. They walked five blocks. When they got to the _____, they played with a _____. They rode down the _____. They laid in the _____. Later, they ate some _____ for a snack. They saw some _____ playing nearby. It made them laugh! At the end of the day they went home in a _____. It was a good day!

Now make your own fill-in-the-blank story for a friend to complete!
